"Somewhere in Missouri," will be a postoffice address of the 1915 football team from Monday night until the morning of the Missouri-Kansas football game. While undressed as yet as to just when the Tigers will leave Columbia, Coach Miller and Athletic Director Meanwell are certain that the Tiger football team will be kept from the hotel making and general conversation articles that are always part of the stay in a hotel in Kansas City, Oklahoma City or any of the other towns where the Tigers have had occasion to stop.

"If we are forced to be in Kansas City a day or two," said Coach Miller, "which I think now is unlikely, and Tiger supporters find out where we are staying, it will just be necessary to put a ban on visiting. I'm afraid. We are out to get this game and must sacrifice everything else for that idea."

Tigers in past years have stayed at the Kansas City Field Club and at the Elms in Excelsior Springs. It is thought by some that the coach this year will try to find some new and more out-of-the-way place this year. The chief idea in getting the Tigers off for a rest, and away from the crowd that will be following them and setting on their chances to defeat the Jayhawks, is to get time for a little practice, and to give them the necessary relaxation before they go into what will be at best a nerve-racking contest.

Tiger boosters unintentionally hurt Tiger chances, so Missouri coaches believe. Special trains for the hundreds of Columbia rooters will leave Columbia Wednesday and Thursday, according to plans of the railroad. Full details of these special schedules will be announced in the next few days.

Fill your Fountain Pen with Stafford's Ink and forget it
No fussing with your fountain pen when it's loaded with brilliant Stafford's Fountain Pen Ink. A uniform, steady flow always on tap.
It never sticks, gums or clogs the pen-point or barrel.
The secret is in the chemical formula which has made Stafford's famous as "The Ink that Absorbs Moisture from the Air."

Your fountain pen is a delicately adjusted instrument. Most inks are too heavy, too syrupy to flow smoothly through the point escapement. Stafford's Fountain Pen Ink is made for just that particular purpose. Most every stationer sells it.
